DETAILED ACTION

Status of the claims

Claims 1-16 are pending in the application; claims 4 and 7 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a nonelected species.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-3, 5-6 and 8-16 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over claims 1-22 of U. S. Patent No. 7,138,560 B2 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

Art Unit: 3761

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows:

The instant specification, at pp. 13-18, describes the substantially identical article comprising the substantially identical cover sheet, back sheet and absorbent material and formed in the same manner as disclosed in 7,138,560 at from col. 7, l. 8 to col. 9, l. 30. The only difference is that the instant disclosure claims the invention in term of buoyancy and water vapor transmission rate properties, i.e. the article is initially neutrally buoyant in order to travel through plumbing, then sinks and disperses within 7 days, while 7,138,560 describes the identical article in terms of dispersion properties, the article travels through plumbing, then sinks and disperses within 7 days (col. 14, l. 37).

Claims 1-3, 5-6 and 8-16 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory double patenting over claims 1-23 of copending Application No. 10/326,912. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not yet been patented.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the referenced copending application and would be covered by any patent granted on that copending application since the referenced copending application and the instant application are claiming common subject matter, as follows:

The instant specification, at pp. 13-18, describes the substantially identical article comprising the substantially identical cover sheet, back sheet and absorbent material and formed in the same manner as disclosed in 10/326,912 at [0036-0052]. The only difference is that the instant disclosure claims the invention in term of buoyancy and water vapor transmission rate properties, i.e. the article is initially neutrally buoyant in order to travel through plumbing, then sinks and disperses within 7 days, while copending application describes the identical article in terms of dispersion properties, the article travels through plumbing, then sinks and disperses within 7 days [0005, 0030, 0064, 0082-3].

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3, 5, 6 and 8-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.
